SMALL BUSINESS CONTRACTOR MEMBERSHIP & DUES

Small Business Contractor membership is limited to any construction firm licensed to perform construction in California that meets the following requirements: an entity holding a valid California Contractor's License for not more than seven years, whose annual construction volume is not more than $5 million and has not previously been a member of the Association. A contractor may remain in this category for a period of three years after which the member will be assessed the standard contractor membership dues.

Annual Volume	Annual Dues
Under $2 million	$600.00
$2 million to $5 million	$950.00

DUES OBLIGATION AND TAX DEDUCTIBILITY

Dues and labor fees are member obligations and members are liable for the costs of any necessary collection action including attorneys fees. For federal income tax purposes, dues paid to AGC may be deductible as ordinary and necessary business expenses. (AGC has elected to pay the "proxy tax" on lobbying activity in lieu of reducing tax deductibility of dues payments.) Dues are not deductible as charitable contributions. Consult your tax professional for specific advice.

Apprenticeship Training Program Firms Only

If the contractor is participating in the Apprenticeship Training Program, the 7-year license requirement is waived. The contractor can remain in this category for as long as they are participating in the program.

Annual Volume	Annual Dues
Under $5 million	$1000.00

FEES FOR AGC INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS SERVICES

Collective Bargaining Representation:

Fees for collective bargaining representation are collected by one of two methods depending upon the applicable collective bargaining agreement: 1) Contract Administration Trust Fund: If the applicable collective bargaining agreements require payments to a contract administration trust fund, AGC is hereby, and in the applicable collective bargaining agreements, designated to be the recipient of such funds. 2) Labor Service Dues: If the applicable collective bargaining agreements do not require payments to a contract administration trust fund, members shall pay Labor Service Dues to AGC. Labor Service Dues are calculated at five cents (5¢) per hour for each hour worked by the member's employees under these collective bargaining agreements, exclusive of San Diego County. These members are required to submit a quarterly report, on a form provided, to AGC indicating all hours worked by employees and payment of the fees described above.

Payment of the fees for collective bargaining representation entitles the member to receive labor relations service and labor information.

Labor Relations Service:

A member that has not given collective bargaining authority to AGC but is signatory to one or more collective bargaining agreements may utilize labor relations service regarding such agreements by making fee payments in the exact amount and manner as described above under Labor Service Dues. Utilization of labor relations service shall be for no less than a twelve month period. Payment of the fees for labor relations service entitles the member to receive labor information. Other labor services may be obtained on an individual basis.

Labor Information:

The fee for labor information is based upon the requested geographic area(s): $200 for Northern California, $200 for Southern California or $300 for both areas. Payment of the labor information fee is due each January to AGC. The labor information fee will not be charged for members utilizing collective bargaining representation or labor relations service.

NOTE: AGC industrial relations service does not include providing individual members with legal representation or counsel in regard to any labor related matters.

FEES FOR AGC LEGISLATIVE FUNDING PROGRAM

Fees for the legislative funding program are collected in several ways. In all cases, the minimum annual assessment is $50.00:

- 1. The member is signatory to a collective bargaining agreement and AGC holds power of attorney. If the agreement requires payment to a contract administration trust fund, AGC is designated to be the recipient of an additional 2 cents per man hour paid into the fund. The member pays no additional fees directly to AGC.
- 2. The member is signatory to a collective bargaining agreement and AGC does not hold power of attorney; or the agreement does not require payment to a contract administration trust fund. The member is required to submit a quarterly report, on a form provided, to AGC indicating all hours worked by construction employees and payment of fees in the amount of 2 cents per man hour. Construction employees are defined as employees who are paid on an hourly basis and are other than the following: superintendents, assistant superintendents, general foremen, civil engineers and their helpers, time keepers, messenger persons, confidential employees and office help. The minimum contribution will be billed with the annual minimum membership dues, and a credit issued on the first report.

- 3. The member is not signatory to a collective bargaining agreement. The member is required to submit a quarterly report, on a form provided, to AGC indicating all hours worked by construction employees and payment of fees in the amount of 2 cents per man hour. Construction employees are defined as employees who are paid on an hourly basis and are other than the following: superintendents, assistant superintendents, general foremen, civil engineers and their helpers, time keepers, messenger persons, confidential employees and office help. The minimum contribution will be billed with the annual minimum membership dues, and a credit issued on the first quarterly report.
- 4. Construction Management firms will be assessed an amount equal to 10% of their annual volume. These fees are due and payable quarterly with the volume dues billed as described on page one of this application.
